LogistiCare Contributes to Hurricane Charley Relief Effort

ATLANTA -- LogistiCare Inc. proudly announces that it has offered assistance to Florida residents whose lives have been affected by the recent devastation of Hurricane Charley. Along with financial aid, LogistiCare offered technical and manpower assistance to the relief effort.

Assistance offered included use of LogistiCare's call-center staff and use of one of the company's toll-free phone lines so that donations could be made to help affected Florida citizens not immediately receiving state relief funds.

"Our hearts go out to those whose lives have been disrupted by Hurricane Charley," said John Shermyen, president and chief executive officer of LogistiCare. "As part of LogistiCare's mission to help people, we felt that contributing to the relief effort was the least we could do at such a critical time as this."

The donation was made in conjunction with the Passenger Transportation Association of South Florida.

"The thoughts and prayers of all LogistiCare associates are with everyone that has been impacted as well as with those helping in the clean-up effort," added Shermyen.

LogistiCare played an integral role during the relief efforts of Hurricane Andrew in 1992. It managed the transportation logistics in conjunction with FEMA, getting people to and from food and water sites and other emergency services, while many of its own employees also lost homes as a result of the hurricane.
