Herman Schwarz Joins LogistiCare as Executive Vice President of Operations

ATLANTA – LogistiCare is pleased to announce that Herman M. Schwarz has joined the company in the new role of executive vice president of operations.

Schwarz will work closely with President and CEO John Shermyen, COO Albert Cortina and CFO Tom Oram as a member of LogistiCare's executive leadership team. His primary focus will be the direct oversight of the company's day-to-day operations – looking closely at best practices and client relationships across all of LogistiCare's field operations.

With an extensive background in operational leadership, Schwarz most recently was the founder and partner of C3 Marketplace LLC.

From 2000 to 2004 Schwarz held positions of President, CEO and Director with Aegis Communications Group Inc., the country's seventh largest publicly traded provider of outsourced call center services. In his various roles with Aegis, Schwarz worked closely with Thayer Capital Partners and Questor Management, Aegis' majority shareholders and private equity sponsors.

Schwarz' other professional experience includes senior roles with Elrick & Lavidge, the marketing research division of Aegis, National Service Industries, Selig Industries and National Linen Service.

Schwarz earned a master's degree in business administration from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania and a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Virginia.

Schwarz resides in Atlanta with his wife and three children.
